Professional Designation

Bryant C. Magee holds the professional designation CERTIFIED PLAN FIDUCIARY ADVISOR® ("CPFA") and Qualified 401(k) Administrator (QKA®)

The CPFA® designation is awarded by the National Association of Plan Advisors who meet its examination requirement. The CPFA® credential demonstrates an adviser's knowledge of, expertise in, and commitment to working with retirement plans. Candidates who earn their CPFA® demonstrate the expertise required to act as a plan fiduciary or help plan fiduciaries manage their roles and responsibilities. The CPFA® Examination consists of 75 multiple-choice questions and takes three hours to complete. To maintain their credential, CPFA® designees must earn 10 continuing education credits every year and one of those credits must address professional ethics.

The Qualified 401(k) Administrator credential from the American Society of Pension Professionals & Actuaries (ASPPA) signifies specialized expertise in retirement plan administration, specifically focused on the detailed operations and regulatory requirements associated with 401(k) plans. Professionals holding the QKA® designation demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of retirement plan design, administration, compliance testing, reporting requirements, and fiduciary responsibilities. Earning the QKA® requires successful completion of rigorous coursework and examinations, adherence to high ethical standards, and ongoing continuing education, ensuring credential holders remain current with evolving industry regulations and best practices.
